Further details about the full range of options and charges for extra subjects are available from the appropriate Head of Department.

A term's notice is required to discontinue extra tuition. "A term's notice" means notice given before the first day of term expiring at the end of term. Extras will continue into the following academic year unless notice has been received in advance. Any extra that is delivered in a block of 10 or more sessions requires a term's notice, with the exception of the first term a pupil joins SG where half a term's notice can be given in the Michaelmas term of Year 1. Half a term's notice is before the first day of classes commencing after half term.
